Your donation directly powers the MJCCA's impact. Be a game changer and a life changer for the whole community.

Inspiration and Exploration Live Here

The Marcus Jewish Community Center of Atlanta is pleased to honor and pay tribute to a special group of individuals and families who believe in the importance of Jewish identity and continuity. As leaders in our community, Pacesetters are "setting the pace" for the MJCCA.

Pacesetter, the MJCCA's major gift program, is designed to consolidate donor giving into an annual, one-time integrated request. Pacesetters can also designate how their philanthropic contribution will be allocated to any of the MJCCA's programs and services.

Being a Pacesetter makes giving to the MJCCA easier and more meaningful than ever before. Donors who participate in the Pacesetter Program contribute $5,000 or more annually to the MJCCA and will only be solicited once per year. Capital or special project funding may be requested.

Pacesetter Benefits

- Recognition in the MJCCA lobby at Zaban Park
- Invitations to Arts & Culture programs including the Book Festival of the MJCCA, Jerry's Habima Theatre productions, and other events throughout the year
- Priority seating at major events
- Recognition in major MJCCA publications
- Personal concierge services to handle your MJCCA needs including registration for camps, cultural event performances, and other programs
- Full access to the MJCCA and MJCCA member rates

Levels of Giving

Pacesetters provide annual leadership support that is essential to the continued growth and strength of programs benefiting the Atlanta Jewish and general community. We salute your vision, your sense of community, and your commitment to philanthropy.
