

THINGS TO DO

SUNDAY, JULY 17

Creative Loafing

Tour de Trees: Inman Park Neighborhood Arboretum Bicycle Tour

TIX

Inman Park

Euclid Ave. and Edgewood Ave. (Inman Park), 9:00 AM - Free with registration

Just in time to celebrate the Tour de France, join Trees Atlanta and Eli Dickerson, Fernbank ecologist and volunteer manager of Trees Atlanta's Champion Tree Program, for a leisurely bicycle tour of the Inman Park Neighborhood Arboretum. Everyone will meet at the corner of Elizabeth Street N.E. and Lake Ave N.E. and continue through the park for a great time.

Nelson Mandela Day

TIX

The National Center for Civil and Human Rights

100 Ivan Allen Jr. Blvd. N.W. (Downtown), 12:00 PM - $12-$16

Join the Center, the South African Chamber of Commerce in Atlanta and the Atlanta Mission to celebrate the life of Madiba Nelson Mandela. Although the celebration will begin one day before his birthday, there will be traditional South African music, family crafts, and dancing!

Urinetown: the Musical

TIX

Marcus Jewish Community Center of Atlanta

5342 Tilly Mill Road (Dunwoody), 8:00 PM - $15-$28

Urinetown: the Musical is a side-splitting send-up of greed, love, and revolution set in a time where there hasn't been enough water for 20 years. To solve this issue, the town government puts a ban on the use of private toilets, and everyone must use the public ones dictated by a company looking to make a profit. Find out if one citizen's revolt will turn into freedom from the bathroom monopoly.

Attack of the Killer Tomato Festival

Park Tavern

500 10th St. (Midtown), 1:00 PM - $40-$70

Atlanta's favorite tomato appreciation event has moved from JCT. Kitchen & Bar to a new home at Park Tavern for its eighth installment. Watch some of the city's most talented chefs, farmers, and mixologists throw down against one another and more than 70 visiting chefs from throughout the South. In 2015, the Ford Fry-sponsored event raised $60,000 for Georgia Organics, and this year, the goal is a generous $100,000 that would go toward the organization's mission of maintaining sustainable, accessible local food to communities across the state.

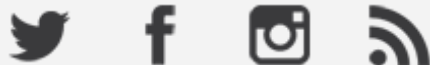

Smart People

Southwest Arts Center

915 New Hope Road S.W. (Cascade), 8:00 PM - $15-$50

The quest for love, achievement and identity is universal, but what role does race play in the story of our lives? set on the eve of Obama's first election, for Harvard intellectuals get mixed up in social and sexual politics. A whirlwind of crackling dialogue and tricky questions is thrown at viewers by the fearless and funny Lydia Diamond (Stick Fly) in this provocative and funny play. Join panelists Dr. Michael Simanga, Zainab Alwan, and Sierra Brown for a post-show discussion on Sun., July 17, following the afternoon performance.

Advertising | Contact Us | Privacy Policy

Click here to unsubscribe. Questions, comments, complaints? Contact Us.

Copyright 2015 © Creative Loafing Atlanta, GA 30303 | clatl.com