Artist Talk: Property Brothers

Marcus Jewish Community Center of Atlanta

5342 Tilly Mill Road (Dunwoody), 7:30 PM - $10-$15

Identical twins Jonathan and Drew Scott from HGTV's show, "Property Brothers," present and discuss their book Dream Home: The Property Brothers' Ultimate Guide to Finding & Fixing Your Perfect House, followed by a Q&A session.

Elle King

Variety Playhouse

1099 Euclid Ave. N.E. (Little Five Points), 8:00 PM - $20-$25

Elle King's voice is a booming pop-country force of nature, suited for large halls or picking a banjo while sitting around a campfire. She has exploded with "Ex's and Oh's," a sweet and slick pop hit detailing love lost and her ability to come out on top. Her real life exes have provided plenty of fodder for an album's worth of tongue-in-cheek songs of the men she's had and affirming statements of the person she is.

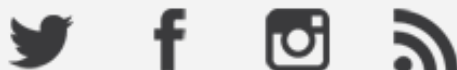

Eyehategod, Fight Amp, Cloak

The Earl

488 Flat Shoals Ave. S.E. (East Atlanta/Ormewood Park), 8:30 PM - $20-$22

Fight Amp inspires acts of rebellion, although the group is not outright violent or politically charged. On the surface, art and politics can appear mutually exclusive, anyway. But there's no neutrality here. To listen to Fight Amp is to breathe, to absorb the air of resistance. And isn't that what noise rock is all about? "Time is long and lonely when you realize survival means marching to the sound of a prosthetic heart." Get into the spirit of defiance.
